

MAINE BUREAU OF TAXATION

SALES, FUEL & SPECIAL TAX DIVISION

GENERAL INFORMATION BULLETIN

Revised October 1, 2001

This publication is intended solely as advice to assist persons in determining, exercising or complying with their legal rights, duties or privileges. It provides an overview of the Sales and Use Tax Law and answers questions that are commonly faced by businesses registered to collect the Maine sales tax.

SALES TAX. A tax is imposed at the rate of 5% of the sale price on retail sales of tangible personal property, fabrication services, telecommunications service, prepaid calling arrangements, transmission and distribution of electricity and extended cable television service. The rate of 5% also applies to rentals of audio and video tapes, video games and audio and video equipment, rental of furniture and home electronic devices and to the rental or lease for more than one year of an automobile. The rate is 7% of the sale price on alcoholic drinks sold in establishments that are licensed for on-premises consumption of liquor, all food prepared by a retailer and certain rentals of living quarters. The rate is 10% on short-term rentals of automobiles.

USE TAX. Purchases made outside the state for use in Maine are subject to a use tax at the rate of 5% when the retailer has not charged the tax. Some common taxable items for a business are office supplies and equipment, janitorial supplies, computer hardware, software and supplies, reference books, fax machines and supplies and photocopiers and supplies. Items withdrawn from inventory for use by the retailer are likewise subject to use tax. Use tax is reported directly to the State. Use tax also applies to casual purchases of aircraft, motor vehicles, watercraft, camper trailers, truck campers, special mobile equipment and livestock trailers.

RECYCLING ASSISTANCE FEE. In addition to the sales or use tax, a Recycling Assistance Fee is imposed on retail sales of new tires and new lead-acid batteries. The amount of the fee is $1 on each tire or battery.

REGISTRATION. The following persons are required to register as sellers and to collect the sales tax and the recycling assistance fee when applicable.

1. Every seller of tangible personal property, whether at wholesale or at retail, who maintains any kind of business location in Maine.
2. Every seller of tangible personal property who does not have a business location in Maine but makes retail sales in Maine or solicits orders by means of salespersons in Maine.

3. Every person who makes sales of tangible personal property in Maine as consignee or agent of a principal located outside of Maine, or receives compensation from sales of tangible personal property for use in Maine made by a principal located outside of Maine, unless the principal is registered as a seller.
4. Every person who makes rentals of living quarters in Maine.
5. Every person who makes rentals or leases of automobiles in Maine.
6. Every person who furnishes telecommunications service or extended cable television service in Maine.
7. Every person who makes rentals of audio and video tapes, video games or audio and video equipment in Maine.
8. Every person who makes sales of fabrication services in Maine.
9. Every lessor engaged in the leasing of tangible personal property located in Maine who makes retail sales to purchasers from Maine.
10. Every seller of tangible personal property or taxable services who has a substantial physical presence in this State sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the due process and commerce clauses of the United States Constitution.
11. Every person who makes rentals of furniture and home electronic devices.
12. Every person engaged in the transmission and distribution of electricity.

Applications for registration certificates are available from Maine Revenue Services. A separate certificate must be obtained for each place of business in this State and must be conspicuously displayed at that place of business. Certificates are not transferable. There is no fee for registration.

LIABILITY; COLLECTION FROM CUSTOMERS. For each reporting period, the seller is liable to the State for the tax and fees on taxable sales and rentals made during that period, whether or not they have been collected from the customer.

The seller must add the sales tax to the sale or rental price according to the following schedules:

For sales, rentals and services taxable at 5%. For sales of less than $1.00, the following schedule is applicable:

Sales Price		Tax
From	To
$0.00	$0.10	$0.00
$0.11	$0.20	$0.01
$0.21	$0.40	$0.02
$0.41	$0.60	$0.03
$0.61	$0.80	$0.04
$0.81	$1.00	$0.05

On all sales of $1.00 or more 5 cents is added for each unit of $1.00 plus the amount indicated above for fractional parts of $1.00.

For sales and rentals taxable at 7%. For sales of less than $1.00, the following schedule is applicable:

Sales Price		Tax
From	To
$0.00	$0.07	$0.00
$0.08	$0.21	$0.01
$0.22	$0.35	$0.02
$0.36	$0.49	$0.03
$0.50	$0.64	$0.04
$0.65	$0.78	$0.05
$0.79	$0.92	$0.06
$0.93	$1.00	$0.07

On all sales of $1.00 or more 7 cents is added for each unit of $1.00 plus the amount indicated above for fractional parts of $1.00.

For services taxable at 10%. For sales of less than $1.00, the following schedule is applicable:

Sales Price		Tax
From	To
$0.00	$0.10	$0.00
$0.11	$0.20	$0.02
$0.21	$0.40	$0.04
$0.41	$0.60	$0.06
$0.61	$0.80	$0.08
$0.81	$1.00	$0.10

On all sales of $1.00 or more 10 cents is added for each unit of $1.00 plus the amount indicated above for fractional parts of $1.00.

Where the tax to be paid includes a fraction of one cent, the fraction is not required to be paid where it is less than one-half cent. A full cent, however, must be paid where the fraction is one-half cent or more.

When several purchases are made together, the tax is computed on the total price of the several items, except that purchases taxed at 5%, 7% and 10% must be separately totaled. Cards showing the tax by brackets may be obtained from Maine Revenue Services, and will be furnished to sellers as registration certificates are issued. The bracket system is intended to enable the seller to recover from customers an amount as nearly as possible equivalent to the seller's own tax liability. Even though no tax is added on individual sales of less than 11 cents (8 cents with respect to the 7% rate and 11 cents with respect to the 10% rate), all sales of taxable items must be included in the taxable sales upon which the seller must pay tax.

The recycling assistance fee is collected at a flat rate of $1 on each item subject to the fee. It is not a part of the "sale price" of the item on which it is imposed for purposes of computing the sales tax.

The tax and fee must be paid directly to Maine Revenue Services by the purchaser on purchases made outside of Maine for use in Maine. On such purchases, the purchaser is liable for payment unless the purchaser has taken a receipt from the seller which shows that the tax (and the fee, if applicable) has been collected.

SALES FOR RESALE. When any person in the business of selling tangible personal property or taxable services buys them for resale, that person is not required to pay, and the supplier is not required to collect, any tax. However, the supplier should require the purchaser to furnish a resale certificate.

RESALE CERTIFICATES. The purpose of the resale certificate is to protect the seller from possible liability for the tax, since without a resale certificate the burden of proving a sale is for resale is on the person making it. The resale certificate must show the name, the address, and the seller's certificate number of the purchaser, and the general type of property or services sold by the purchaser. In the case of regular customers purchasing for resale, one resale certificate is sufficient to cover subsequent purchases. In other cases a separate resale certificate should be obtained with each order. Even when selling to a customer who has provided a resale certificate, the seller should treat every sale as taxable unless the purchaser specifies in the order that the goods are for resale.

The resale certificate will protect the seller only if it is taken in good faith. The good faith of the seller will be questioned if the seller has knowledge of facts that would lead to a reasonable inference that the purchaser does not intend to resell the property, such as knowledge that a purchaser of particular merchandise is not engaged in the business of selling that kind of merchandise. Sales to manufacturers, contractors, wholesalers, or retailers are taxable retail sales if the items purchased will be used by the purchaser, rather than resold to someone else. Purchasers who avoid payment of tax through deliberate misuse of resale certificates are subject to prosecution.

The form of the resale certificate is set forth in Rule No. 301. Resale certificates may be reproduced by sellers for their own use, or for the convenience of their customers.

TRANSACTIONS NOT TAXABLE. The Maine sales or use tax applies only to sales of tangible personal property, fabrication services, telecommunications service, transmission and distribution of electricity and extended cable television service and to interim rentals of tangible personal property being held for resale, rentals of audio and video tapes, video games and audio and video equipment, rentals of furniture and home electronics, rentals of living quarters except rentals for 28 days or more that are the person's primary residence or in connection with education or employment, and rentals or leases of automobiles.

There is no tax on services in general, such as haircuts or cleaning and pressing charges. However, if a service is a part of a sale of tangible personal property, the charge for the service is a part of the taxable sale price of the property even if it is stated separately on the invoice to the customer. The only exception to this general rule is when charges for installation or repair services, other than installation or repair to telecommunications equipment, or for shipment directly to the location of the purchaser by common or contract carrier or the U.S. mail are stated separately from the cost of the property. In other words, in the case of repairs to an automobile involving replacement parts, if the total charge is $200.00, the tax is based on the entire charge unless the labor and parts are separately stated on the bill. If the labor is $80.00 and the parts are $120.00, and the amounts are so stated on the bill, the tax is computed only on the parts.

There is no Maine sales tax on a sale where delivery is made by the seller to a point outside of Maine, or where the seller arranges for delivery by common carrier, contract carrier, or the United States mail to a point outside of Maine.

EXEMPTIONS. The Sales and Use Tax Law provides exemptions for sales to certain types of organizations, and sales of certain kinds of tangible personal property. All of the same exemptions apply to the recycling assistance fee.

Any tax paid during the initial 28 day period must be refunded by the retailer.

TRADE-IN CREDIT. Tax on the sale or use of motor vehicles, watercraft, aircraft, chain saws, special mobile equipment, camper trailers, truck campers and livestock trailers is levied at the same rate (5%) as on other property; but when any one of the above items is traded in toward the sale price of another item of the same kind, the tax is charged only on the difference between the price and the amount allowed for trade-in. This does not apply to any other type of property or to motor vehicles, watercraft, aircraft, chain saws, camper trailers, livestock trailers or special mobile equipment exchanged between dealers from inventory.

RETURNS. Sales and Use Tax Returns will be mailed to registered sellers each month, except that registrants whose total tax liability normally is less than $100 per month may request authorization to file on a less frequent basis. The return provided by the Bureau must be filed on or before the 15th day of the month following the end of the reporting period, whether or not any tax is due.

Alternatively, returns may be filed electronically through the internet. Go to <http://www.state.me.us/revenue> and click on "Internet Filing Business Returns". At the next page select "Sales Tax Online".

Persons who are not required to be registered as sellers, but who make purchases subject to Maine use tax on a regular basis, will also be furnished monthly returns upon application to Maine Revenue Services. These returns need not be filed for periods in which no tax is due.

DEDUCTIONS FROM GROSS RECEIPTS. The following should be deducted from gross receipts on each return:

1. Sales of exempt commodities.
2. Sales for resale.
3. Sales to exempt organizations.
4. Sales of property delivered or shipped by the seller to a location outside of Maine.

5. Adjustments of tax previously reported, such as sales canceled for full refund after tax had been reported; sales determined to be exempt after tax had been reported; cash discounts taken after tax had been reported; uncollectible accounts actually charged off on the books of the seller, on which tax had been reported; and any other allowable credits.

CLASSIFIED PERMITS. A seller whose merchandise includes both taxable and exempt commodities may request authorization to report Maine sales tax using a classified permit. A classified permit establishes the percentage of gross sales represented by sales of exempt commodities during a typical test period. This percentage may be used in lieu of maintaining an actual breakdown of sales of taxable and nontaxable commodities. More information about classified permits can be obtained from the Sales and Use Tax Section.

Classified permits are not transferable when a business is sold. The new owner must apply for and be issued a new classified permit in order to report on this basis.

PAYMENT. Payment of the amount due must be made when the return is filed.

Sales and use taxes collected from customers are deemed to constitute a special fund in trust for the State Tax Assessor. Intentional failure to collect, truthfully account for and pay over trust fund taxes at the time required by law is a Class D crime (in the case of a person who has a prior conviction, a Class C crime). A person who is responsible as an officer, director, member, agent or employee for collection or payment of a business's trust fund taxes is subject to prosecution under this statute and can also be held personally liable for the unpaid taxes. Furthermore, if collected sales taxes are not paid over and are dealt with by the retailer as the retailer's own, then the retailer may be charged with theft. Theft of property in excess of $5000 is a Class B crime.

INTEREST. Any person who fails to pay any tax on or before the due date will be charged interest on the unpaid tax at the rate provided in Rule No. 101. An extension of time for filing a return does not extend the time for payment of the tax.

PENALTIES. Maine law provides civil penalties for failure to file a return, for failure to pay taxes when due, and for filing a false return.

A. Failure to file return. Any person who fails to file a return on or before the due date or if the return is not filed but the tax due is assessed by the assessor, the person may be charged a penalty of $25.00 or 10% of the tax due, whichever is greater. If the return is not filed within 30 days after the person receives a formal demand that the return be filed, the penalty is 100% of the tax due.

B. Failure to pay tax. Any person who fails to pay any tax on any return or any assessment on or before the due date may be charged a penalty of 1% of the unpaid tax for each month or fraction thereof during which the failure continues, up to a limit of 25% of the unpaid tax. Any person who fails to pay a tax assessment for which no further administrative or judicial review is available may be charged an additional penalty of 25% of the tax due if payment of the tax due is not made within 10 days after the person receives a demand for payment.

C. False return. Any person who files a return that is materially incorrect because of negligence or intentional disregard of the law or of any ruling or rule of the State Tax Assessor, without intent to defraud, may be charged a penalty of $25.00 or 25% of the deficiency, whichever is greater. Any person who files a return that is materially incorrect because of fraud with intent to evade the tax may be charged a penalty of $75.00 or 75% of the deficiency, whichever is greater.

RECORDS. Each seller must keep adequate records to determine:

1. Gross sales.
2. Deductions allowed by law and claimed in filing returns.
3. The purchase price of all tangible personal property and taxable services purchased for resale and of all tangible personal property and taxable services purchased for use in Maine.
4. The total amount of sales of food prepared by the retailer.
5. The total amount of rentals of living quarters in hotels, rooming houses, tourist or trailer camps.
6. The total amount of rentals of automobiles on a short-term basis.
7. The total amount of rentals of audio and video tapes, video games and audio and video equipment.
8. The number of tires and lead-acid batteries sold and the amount of fees collected.
9. The total amount of rentals of furniture and home electronic devices.

These records must be retained for six years.

TAX AS SHOWN IN ADVERTISEMENTS AND BILLS. It is illegal for any seller to advertise or hold out or state to the public or to any consumer that the sales tax or any portion of it will not be collected, or will be absorbed by the retailer, or that if collected it will be refunded. However, it is not required that the tax be shown as a separate item in advertisements or on sales slips. A statement on the sales slip or invoice that sales tax is included in the sales price is sufficient.

PURCHASE OF BUSINESS. Anyone purchasing a business, or the stock-in-trade in bulk of a business, should make sure that the previous owner has paid in full all sales and use taxes owed by the business. If the person selling the business has not paid those taxes, the person purchasing the business is required to withhold the amount of the unpaid taxes, interest and penalties from the purchase price. If the purchaser fails to do this, the purchaser can be held liable for the taxes, interest and penalties.

Any person contemplating the purchase of a business who does not have certain knowledge that the sales and use tax liability of the business has been paid should request the seller to obtain a tax clearance letter from the Compliance Division of Maine Revenue Services.
